PPNYC

Notice to Competitors

Wednesday Afternoon Pursuit

4 November 2026

The Pursuit race scheduled for today has been postponed due to forecast inclement weather.

Rationale:

Advice from the Bureau duty forecaster is that Thunderstorms will impact the bay from 1400 – 1600 with associated squalls up to 50 Knots and potential lightning.

This is associated with a front crossing the bay from about 1400.

Forecast for Wednesday 4 November until midnight
Winds: North westerly about 10 knots tending west to north westerly 10 to 15 knots in the middle of the day then becoming westerly 15 to 25 knots in the early afternoon. Squalls possible with the wind change. Seas: Below 0.5 metres, increasing to around 1 metre around midday. Weather: Cloudy. 95% chance of showers. The chance of a thunderstorm in the afternoon.

Given the need to provide ample notice of postponement and the forecast inclement weather the race committee have made the decision to postpone the race.

Owen Church
Sailing Manager
4 November 2026